(Younts), tenor bass, bass, and set drums for 20 years at outdoor festivals, weddings, parties, schools, and street events. They recorded two CDs and were featured in television news specials and newspaper articles, then recognized as the only all-female steel drum band.

As the Foundation looks toward the future, it has initiated a search for a qualified individual to serve as treasurer. This volunteer leadership role will help oversee the organization's financial stewardship, support sound fiscal management, and contribute to its long-term strategic vision. Candidates should possess an accounting degree or comparable financial management experience. This position does not require tax preparation. For more information, contact accounting@commonthreadforthecure.org.

The Common Thread for the Cure Foundation is dedicated to providing financial assistance to breast cancer survivors working in the design and furnishings industry, as well as to their immediate family members. Grants help ease financial stress during treatment and recovery, allowing recipients to focus on their health and well-being. These grants are made possible by the generosity of our many supporters, including our long-term sponsoring manufacturers. This valued group of sponsors includes Versteel, Valley Forge Fabrics, Momentum Textiles and Wallcovering, Paul Brayton Designs, Exemplis, Mayer Fabrics, AHF/Crossville, La-Z-Boy Healthcare | Knu Comfort, OFS, Vanguard Furniture, and Indiana Furniture, to name a few.

Visit the organization's website, commonthreadforthecure.org, for more information about the Foundation and to learn how to become a sponsor.

About The Common Thread for the Cure:

A 501 (c)(3) nonprofit organization, The Common Thread for the Cure Foundation was founded in 2000 by Suzann Burkhead Bray and Scott Burkhead in memory of their sister, Sandra Burkhead Campbell, who lost her long fight with breast cancer in February 1999. The foundation has awarded over $2 million to individuals in 43 states, Canada, and Mexico, and the number continues to grow each year. Raise your hand and join us.
