

The Tamara Day by Spectra Home collection consists of family-friendly upholstered seating that fits into Day's mantra of being affordable, attainable, and aspirational. The new laid-back luxe collection, covered in fashion fabrics and supple leathers, includes kid and pet friendly sectionals, sofas, chairs, benches, and ottomans designed for how the modern family lives today. "My goal was to design everything to be versatile so you can mix and match and make every space feel special," Day stated.

"Spectra Home Furniture would like to thank our partners for their generosity in making this Chair of Hope happen," Telleysch added. "That list includes: Tamara Day and her team for their continued support of The Common Thread for The Cure; Shayne Global for providing the Meyer Chair; Port Orange Upholstery, Thomasville, NC for reupholstering the chair; Studio 323, High Point, NC for providing the chair photography; The Media Matters for introducing us to The Common Thread for The Cure and supporting the raffle; and everyone who took the time to write their heart-felt inspirations and kind words on this work of art. We know that this Chair of Hope will make a difference in someone's life when they need it the most."

About Tamara Day

Designer and host, Tamara Day, seeks to make the aspirational attainable for her clients and fans of her renovation projects. Tamara restores neglected Kansas City homes on Bargain Mansions. Bargain Mansions, which originated on DIY spent two seasons on HGTV and now has found its home at Magnolia Network, is going into its sixth season. When Tamara is not in front of the camera, she is committed to her family and design business located in Kansas City. Her style, coined "Laid Back Luxe," is synonymous with blending glamour, comfort, and family into the spaces she designs – something she personally prioritizes. As a busy mother of four, Tamara believes homes should be both beautiful and low maintenance because life is stressful enough.
